

Fill in the number bonds using the pictures.

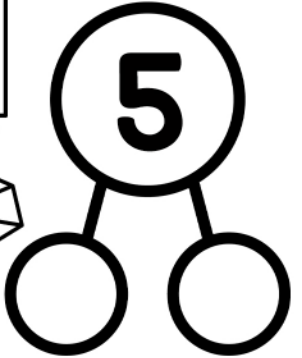

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two smaller circles. The left circle contains the number 3, and the right circle contains the number 2. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: three flying saucers and two alien creatures.

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: an open book, three handbags, and two diamonds.

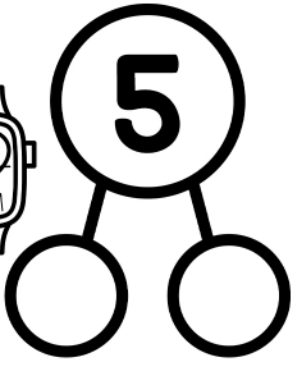

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: three newspapers and two envelopes.

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: three safes and two diamonds.

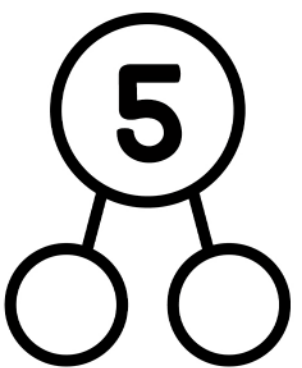

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: three birdcages and two toy cars with price tags of $7.

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: three smartwatches displaying 65 BPM and one birthday cake.

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: two brooms and three birds.

A number bond diagram with a large circle at the top containing the number 5. Two lines extend downwards to two empty circles. To the left of the number bond are five illustrations: five fences.