

Once upon a time, in a faraway kingdom, lived a kind and gentle girl named Cinderella. She lived with her wicked stepmother and two stepsisters who were very cruel to her. Cinderella had to do all the hard work around the house while her stepsisters did nothing. Despite her hardships, Cinderella remained sweet and optimistic, always believing that better days were ahead.

One day, the King announced a grand ball at the palace, inviting every eligible maiden to attend because the Prince was looking for a bride. Cinderella dreamed of going to the ball, but her stepmother told her, "no," leaving her in tears.

However, Cinderella's Fairy Godmother appeared, magically transforming her rags into a beautiful gown and turning a pumpkin into a splendid carriage. She warned Cinderella that the magic would only last until midnight.

At the ball, Cinderella was the most beautiful girl there, especially to the Prince who fell in love with her at first sight. But as the clock struck midnight, Cinderella rushed away, accidentally leaving behind a glass slipper. The Prince searched the kingdom high and low for the owner of the slipper, and when he arrived at Cinderella's home, the slipper fit her perfectly. Cinderella and the Prince were soon married, and they lived happily ever after.
