

Once upon a time, in a beautiful forest, there was a little girl named Goldilocks. She had golden curls and loved exploring new places. One sunny morning, while wandering through the woods, she stumbled upon a charming cottage. Without a second thought, Goldilocks, driven by curiosity, entered the cottage. Inside, she found three bowls of porridge on the table. Hungry from her walk, she tasted the porridge from the first bowl, which was too hot. The second bowl's porridge was too cold, but the third bowl was just right, and she ate it all up.

After eating, Goldilocks felt tired and noticed three chairs in the living room. She tried sitting in the first chair, which was too big. The second chair was also too big, but the third chair was just the right size. However, as she settled in, the small chair broke under her weight! Feeling sleepy, she went upstairs and found three beds. The first bed was too hard, the second bed was too soft, but the third bed felt just right. Goldilocks laid down and soon fell fast asleep.

While Goldilocks was sleeping, the owners of the cottage, three bears, returned from their walk in the forest. They immediately noticed someone had been there. The bears found their eaten porridge, broken chair, and finally, the little girl sleeping in one of their beds. Goldilocks woke up to see the three bears staring at her! Startled and scared, she jumped out of bed, ran down the stairs, and didn't stop running until she was out of the forest. From that day on, Goldilocks never wandered off into the forest alone again.
