

Once upon a time, in a kingdom far away, there lived a beautiful princess named Snow White. Her skin was as white as snow, her lips as red as a rose, and her hair as black as ebony. Snow White's stepmother, the Queen, was very jealous of her beauty and ordered a huntsman to take her into the forest and leave her there. But the kind huntsman couldn't bring himself to harm Snow White and let her go.

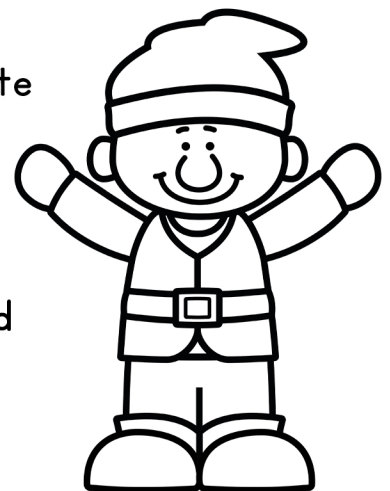

Snow White found a little cottage in the woods where seven dwarfs lived. They were named Doc, Grumpy, Happy, Sleepy, Bashful, Sneezy, and Dopey. The dwarfs loved her and let her stay with them. One day, the Queen discovered that Snow White was still alive and living with the dwarfs. Disguised as an old peddler woman, the Queen came to the cottage and offered Snow White a poisoned apple. Snow White took a bite and immediately fell into a deep sleep, which looked like death.

The dwarfs were heartbroken and placed her in a glass coffin in the woods. Time passed, and one day, a prince who had heard of Snow White's beauty came to see her. He was so moved by her beauty and the sad story that he kissed her, breaking the spell. Snow White woke up!

Snow White and the prince soon fell in love, and he asked her to marry him. The whole kingdom was invited to their wedding. They lived happily ever after, ruling the kingdom with kindness and fairness.
