

Once upon a time, in the vast land of Kansas, lived a young girl named Dorothy with her little dog, Toto. One day, a powerful tornado swept them away to the magical Land of Oz. When they landed, they found themselves in a beautiful place, but all Dorothy wanted to do was return home. She learned that the wonderful Wizard of Oz, who lived in the Emerald City, could help her. To get there, she needed to follow the yellow brick road.

Along the way, Dorothy made some wonderful friends. First, she met the Scarecrow, who wished for a brain to think. Next, she found the Tin Woodsman, who desired a heart to love. Lastly, they encountered the Cowardly Lion, who was in search of courage to overcome his fears. Together, they faced many challenges and adventures, helping one another on their journey to the Emerald City to ask for the Wizard's help.

When they finally met the Wizard of Oz, he asked them to bring him the broom of the Wicked Witch of the West. With bravery and teamwork, they managed to defeat the witch and brought back the broom to the Wizard. To their surprise, they discovered the Wizard was just an ordinary man. However, he still helped each of them realize they already had what they were looking for inside themselves. And for Dorothy to get home, all she needed to do was click her heels three times and say, "There's no place like home." With a heavy heart but hopeful spirit, Dorothy bid farewell to her friends and woke up back in Kansas, safe and sound, with Toto by her side.
