

The sun is shining bright,
It fills my heart with delight.
The birds sing in the trees,
Their songs dance in the breeze.

I love to play outside,
Beneath the bright, blue sky.
When it's too cold, I hide,
And watch the clouds roll by.

I have a little cat,
His fur is soft and gray.
He likes to chase the rat,
And then he wants to play.

The stars come out at night,
They twinkle soft and bright.
The moon begins to glow,
And lights the world below.
