

Read two simple sentences and combine them using the correct conjunction.

You can have cake. You can have ice cream.

She isn't kind. She isn't honest.

He plays the piano. He plays the violin.

I will stay home. I will go out.

She sings. She dances.

We can go skating. We can go sledding.

He didn't call. He didn't visit.

She is smart. She is creative.

I will sleep early. I will read instead.

The toy was fun. It was noisy.

Read two simple sentences and combine them using the correct conjunction.

You can have cake. You can have ice cream.

You can have either cake or ice cream.

She isn't kind. She isn't honest.

She is neither kind nor honest.

He plays the piano. He plays the violin.

He plays both the piano and the violin.

I will stay home. I will go out.

I don't know whether I will stay home or go out.

She sings. She dances.

She not only sings but also dances.

We can go skating. We can go sledding.

We can do either skating or sledding.

He didn't call. He didn't visit.

He did neither call nor visit.

She is smart. She is creative.

She is both smart and creative.

I will sleep early. I will read instead.

I can either sleep early or read instead.

The toy was fun. It was noisy.

It was not only fun but also noisy.