

Read two simple sentences and combine them using the correct conjunction.

I wore my coat. It was cold.

He waited. She arrived.

I will go. You go with me.

We went outside. The rain stopped.

She was tired. She kept working.

I brushed my teeth. I went to bed.

We were playing. It started to snow.

I can't leave. You finish your work.

I read a book. I waited.

He won't eat. You make pizza.

Read two simple sentences and combine them using the correct conjunction.

I wore my coat. It was cold.

I wore my coat because it was cold.

He waited. She arrived.

He waited until she arrived.

I will go. You go with me.

I will go if you go with me.

We went outside. The rain stopped.

We went outside after the rain stopped.

She was tired. She kept working.

Although she was tired, she kept working.

I brushed my teeth. I went to bed.

I brushed my teeth before I went to bed.

We were playing. It started to snow.

We were playing when it started to snow.

I can't leave. You finish your work.

I can't leave until you finish your work.

I read a book. I waited.

I read a book while I waited.

He won't eat. You make pizza.

He won't eat unless you make pizza.