

Draw a picture that shows how, when, where, or how often something happens.
Write a sentence about your picture. Underline the adverb.

The drawing area is a large, empty rectangular space. Below it are five sets of primary-ruled lines, each consisting of a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line, providing space for writing a sentence.