

Apples are actually a fruit, not a vegetable.

Apples only grow in cold climates.

Apples are about 86% water.

Apple trees need bees to make fruit.

It takes 4–5 years for a new tree to grow apples.

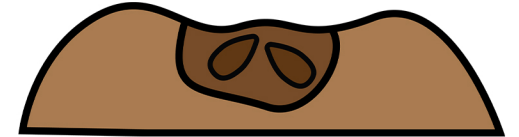

Apple trees only live for about 5 years.

Apples float in water because they are 25% air.

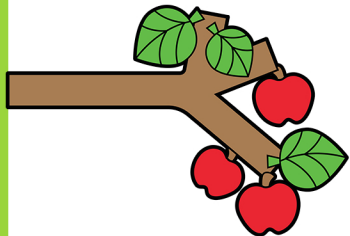

Apple seeds are poisonous to touch.

You can eat the apple skin.

All apples are red.

There are over 7,500 varieties of apples.

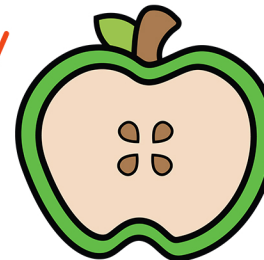

Apples belong to the rose family.

China grows the most apples in the world.

Apples grow in large gardens called orchards.

Apples only come in two colors.

Apple trees grow fruit in their first year.

One apple has about 5–8 seeds inside.

Pears and cherries are related to apples.

