

Read each sentence. Add an exclamation point (!)
or a comma (,) after the interjection.

Strong feelings = exclamation point (!)

Mild feelings = comma (,)

1. Wow ____ That rainbow stretches all the way across the sky!

2. Oh ____ I did not realize you were already here.

3. Yahoo ____ We are going to the water park today!

4. Hmm ____ I wonder which book I should read next.

5. Yikes ____ That car came very close to hitting the mailbox!

6. Well ____ maybe we can try again tomorrow.

7. Bravo ____ That was the best piano recital I have ever heard!

8. Yes ____ I would love to come to your sleepover.

9. Ugh ____ I have to rake all of these leaves by myself!

Read each sentence. Add an exclamation point (!)
or a comma (,) after the interjection.

Strong feelings = exclamation point (!)

Mild feelings = comma (,)

1. Wow ! That rainbow stretches all the way across the sky!

2. Oh , I did not realize you were already here.

3. Yahoo ! We are going to the water park today!

4. Hmm , I wonder which book I should read next.

5. Yikes ! That car came very close to hitting the mailbox!

6. Well , maybe we can try again tomorrow.

7. Bravo ! That was the best piano recital I have ever heard!

8. Yes , I would love to come to your sleepover.

9. Ugh ! I have to rake all of these leaves by myself!