

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

Worker bees visit dozens of flowers on a single trip.

Bees communicate by dancing.

Bees sleep in small beds inside the hive.

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

A queen bee can lay about 2,000 eggs in one day.

Queen bees are the largest bees in the colony.

Queen bees never leave the hive during their entire lives.

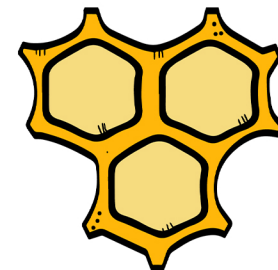

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

Drones are male bees whose only job is to mate with a new queen.

Drones collect pollen and make honey just like worker bees do.

Drones do not have stingers.

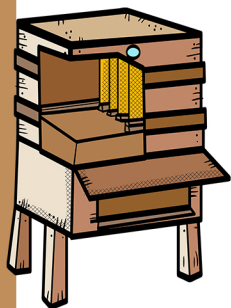

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

Honeybees make extra honey to store for winter.

Bees make honey out of tree sap.

Bees turn nectar into honey inside their nest.

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

Bees buzz by rubbing their legs together like crickets.

A bee's wings beat hundreds of times per second.

The buzzing sound comes from a bee's fast-moving wings.

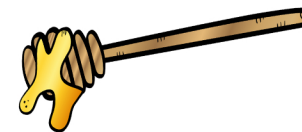

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: BEES

Beekeepers use smoke to help keep bees calm while checking a hive.

Beekeepers only visit a hive one time each year.

Beekeepers wear protective suits and veils to stay safe near bees.

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM