

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

Chickens can fly higher than a house.

Chickens can recognize over 100 different faces.

A chicken egg takes about 21 days to hatch.

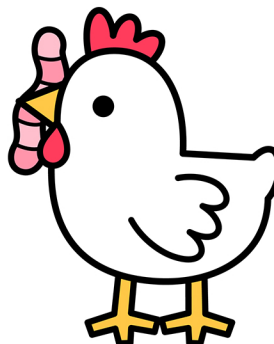

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

Chickens can make more than 30 different sounds.

Chicken eggs can be white, brown, blue, or green.

Roosters only crow at sunrise.

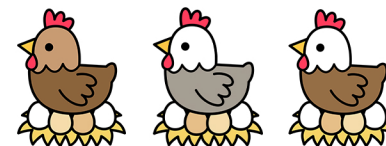

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

A hen sitting on her eggs to keep them warm is called brooding.

All chickens lay the same color of egg.

Some scientists think chickens are related to dinosaurs.

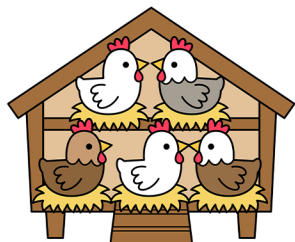

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

There are more than 350 recognized chicken breeds.

Chicks use a small point on their beak called an egg tooth to help them hatch.

Chicks hatch with full adult feathers.

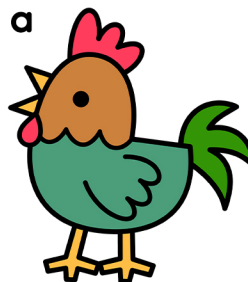

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

A chick can lay eggs the day it hatches.

A rooster is the adult male chicken.

Chickens live in groups with a social order called a pecking order.

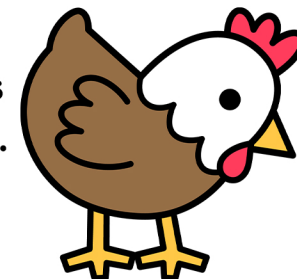

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM

TWO TRUTHS & A LIE: CHICKENS

Chickens use their claws to scratch the ground for food.

Chickens do not have any feelings or memory.

A chicken's wattle helps keep it cool.

SUPERSTARWORKSHEETS.COM