

Dragonflies have light bodies and some weigh less than a paperclip.

Dragonflies can fly backward.

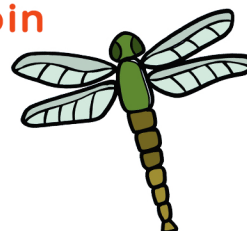

Dragonflies build nests to lay their eggs.

A dragonfly nymph breathes using gills.

Dragonflies can eat hundreds of mosquitoes in a day.

Dragonflies spin silk to catch their prey.

Dragonflies have compound eyes with thousands of lenses.

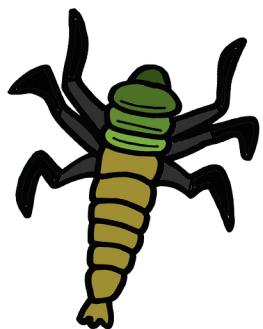

Dragonflies are a type of butterfly.

Dragonflies live on every continent except Antarctica.

Dragonfly nymphs live underwater.

Dragonflies only have two wings.

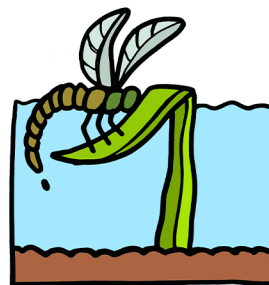

Adult dragonflies can hover in place.

Dragonflies sting people to defend themselves.

Dragonflies undergo incomplete metamorphosis.

Some dragonflies fly up to 35 miles per hour.

Dragonflies were around before dinosaurs.

Dragonflies can breathe underwater as adults.

Most adult dragonflies live only a few weeks to months.

