

Word Bank:

breeds

feathers

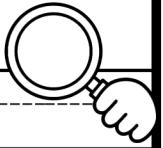

eggs

farms

Did you know there are more than 350 different breeds of chickens? Some breeds, like the Silkie, have soft, fluffy feathers that feel like fur. The Leghorn is known for laying lots of white eggs. The Rhode Island Red has reddish-brown feathers and is a favorite on many farms. The Plymouth Rock has black-and-white striped feathers and is known for being calm and friendly. Each breed looks different, but they are all still chickens!

1. How many chicken breeds are mentioned in the passage?

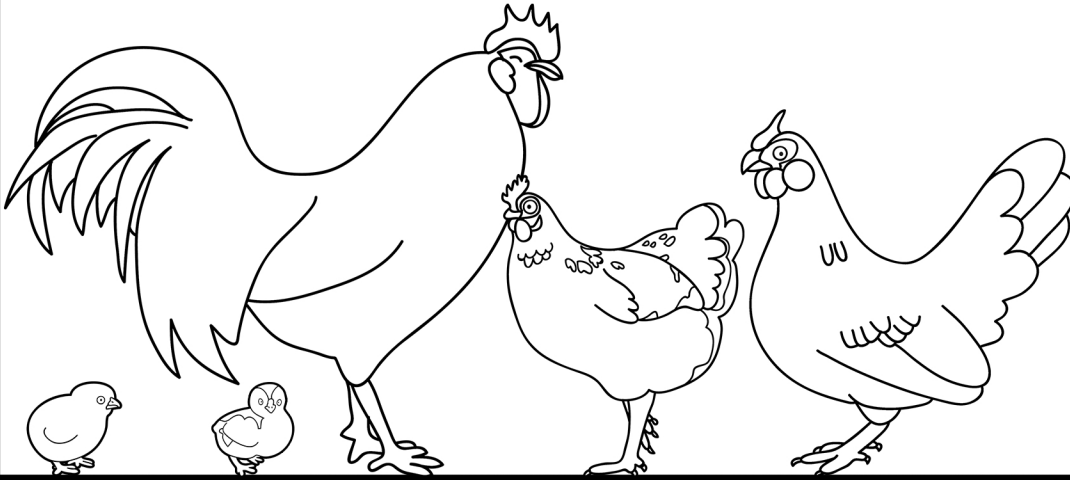

2. Which breed has soft, fluffy feathers?

3. Which breed is known for laying lots of white eggs?

4. Describe the feathers of a Plymouth Rock.

5. Name one way all four breeds are the same.

Word Bank:

breeds
feathers
eggs
farms

Did you know there are more than 350 different breeds of chickens? Some breeds, like the Silkie, have soft, fluffy feathers that feel like fur. The Leghorn is known for laying lots of white eggs. The Rhode Island Red has reddish-brown feathers and is a favorite on many farms. The Plymouth Rock has black-and-white striped feathers and is known for being calm and friendly. Each breed looks different, but they are all still chickens!

1. How many chicken breeds are mentioned in the passage?

Four breeds (Silkie, Leghorn, Rhode Island Red, Plymouth Rock)

2. Which breed has soft, fluffy feathers?

Silkie

3. Which breed is known for laying lots of white eggs?

Leghorn

4. Describe the feathers of a Plymouth Rock.

Black-and-white striped feathers

5. Name one way all four breeds are the same.

Sample answer: They are all still chickens.