

HUMAN STOMACH

[illegible]

Across

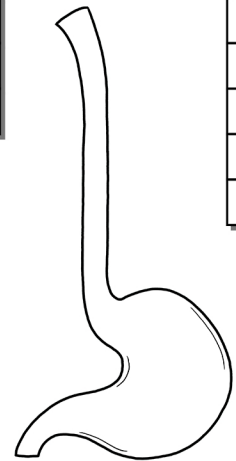

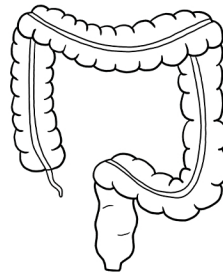

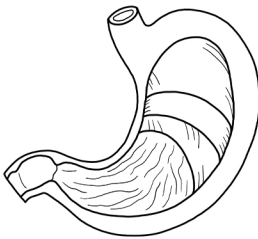

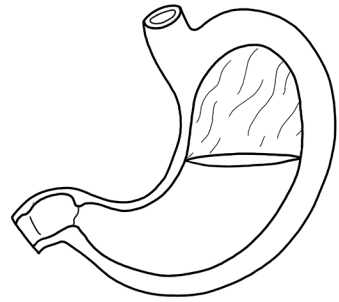

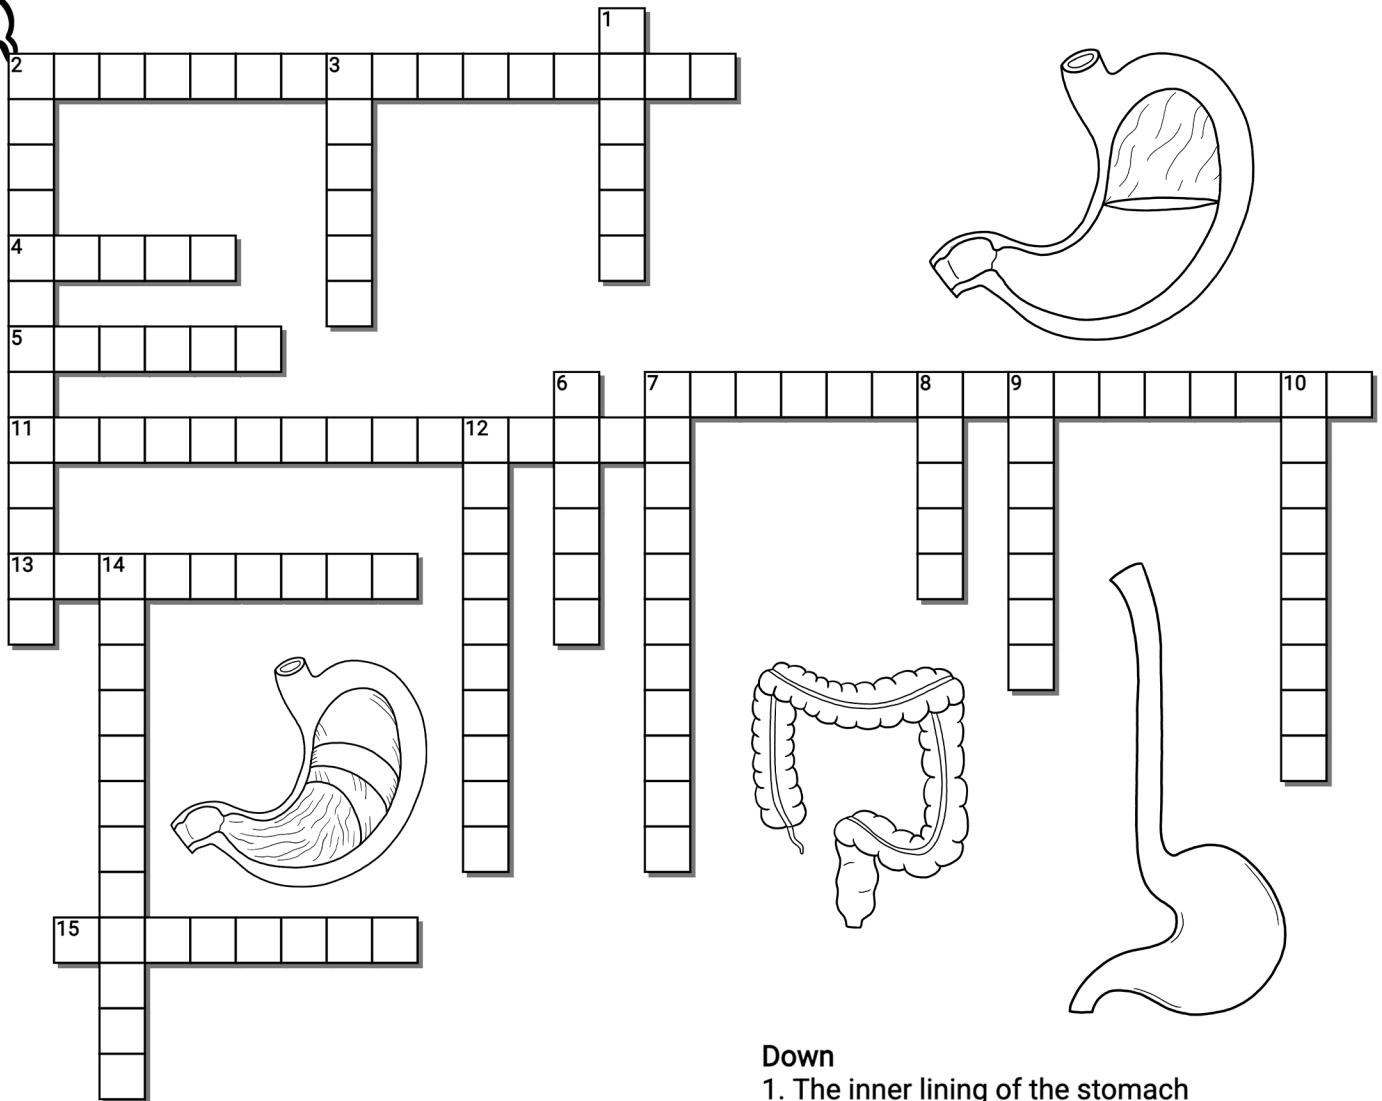

2. The longer, outer curved edge of the stomach
4. The folds in the stomach's inner lining that let it stretch as it fills
5. Scientific name for the stomach's main, middle section, also called the body
7. The ring of muscle that controls food leaving the stomach
11. The shorter, inner curved edge of the stomach
13. The process of breaking food down into nutrients the body can use
15. The first section of the small intestine, right after the stomach

Down

1. The inner lining of the stomach
2. Tiny structures in the stomach lining that produce gastric juice
3. The opening where the esophagus connects to the stomach
6. The upper, rounded part of the stomach
7. Wave-like muscle squeezes that push food through the esophagus and stomach
8. The thick, liquid mix of food and gastric juice formed in the stomach
9. The narrow end of the stomach that connects to the small intestine
10. The tube that carries food from your mouth down to your stomach
12. The process where nutrients pass into the bloodstream, beginning in the small intestine
14. The acidic liquid the stomach makes to help break down food

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

HUMAN STOMACH

Across

2. The longer, outer curved edge of the stomach
4. The folds in the stomach's inner lining that let it stretch as it fills
5. Scientific name for the stomach's main, middle section, also called the body
7. The ring of muscle that controls food leaving the stomach
11. The shorter, inner curved edge of the stomach
13. The process of breaking food down into nutrients the body can use
15. The first section of the small intestine, right after the stomach

Down

1. The inner lining of the stomach
2. Tiny structures in the stomach lining that produce gastric juice
3. The opening where the esophagus connects to the stomach
6. The upper, rounded part of the stomach
7. Wave-like muscle squeezes that push food through the esophagus and stomach
8. The thick, liquid mix of food and gastric juice formed in the stomach
9. The narrow end of the stomach that connects to the small intestine
10. The tube that carries food from your mouth down to your stomach
12. The process where nutrients pass into the bloodstream, beginning in the small intestine
14. The acidic liquid the stomach makes to help break down food